

PRAYER FOR RECONCILIATION

Blessed are You, Lord of all creation. I freely choose to praise and thank You for all You did through Your Son, Jesus Christ, who came to teach me how to live life to the fullest.

I pray for _____ and ask that You take him/her into Your loving arms and fill him/her with Your mercy and peace. In the name of Jesus Christ, the Prince of Love, I commit _____ to Your authority and ask that You present him/her to the Father and the fullness of His glory.

I seek forgiveness, Lord, for not doing this earlier. I ask that _____ may know my personal love and reconciliation. Here I wish to show forth to _____ and all his/her family all that You have achieved: that in the bread I will hold is Your life and teaching. Your body and blood, Your brokenness and healing through Your stripes. In Your shed blood is the free gift of freedom from the guilt and stain of sin. Through the torn veil we have direct access to You, for, in rising, You defeated Satan and his companions, and You became available to all who seek Your mercy.

Now may the angel of mercy embrace _____ and at this moment may he/she be empowered with Your loving gentleness. I choose to surrender all my concerns, thoughts, feelings, and desires for _____ and place them at the foot of Your cross to become what You choose them to become.

Now, Lord, because I choose to surrender _____ to Your loving care, I no longer will be pressured or oppressed by this relationship. May I now be healed and become the person You intended me to become, to live Your praise and glory. Amen.

PRAYER FOR RECONCILIATION

Blessed are You, Lord of all creation. I freely choose to praise and thank You for all You did through Your Son, Jesus Christ, who came to teach me how to live life to the fullest.

I pray for _____ and ask that You take him/her into Your loving arms and fill him/her with Your mercy and peace. In the name of Jesus Christ, the Prince of Love, I commit _____ to Your authority and ask that You present him/her to the Father and the fullness of His glory.

I seek forgiveness, Lord, for not doing this earlier. I ask that _____ may know my personal love and reconciliation. Here I wish to show forth to _____ and all his/her family all that You have achieved: that in the bread I will hold is Your life and teaching. Your body and blood, Your brokenness and healing through Your stripes. In Your shed blood is the free gift of freedom from the guilt and stain of sin. Through the torn veil we have direct access to You, for, in rising, You defeated Satan and his companions, and You became available to all who seek Your mercy.

Now may the angel of mercy embrace _____ and at this moment may he/she be empowered with Your loving gentleness. I choose to surrender all my concerns, thoughts, feelings, and desires for _____ and place them at the foot of Your cross to become what You choose them to become.

Now, Lord, because I choose to surrender _____ to Your loving care, I no longer will be pressured or oppressed by this relationship. May I now be healed and become the person You intended me to become, to live Your praise and glory. Amen.

